

Miguel Angel Crozzoli

love is

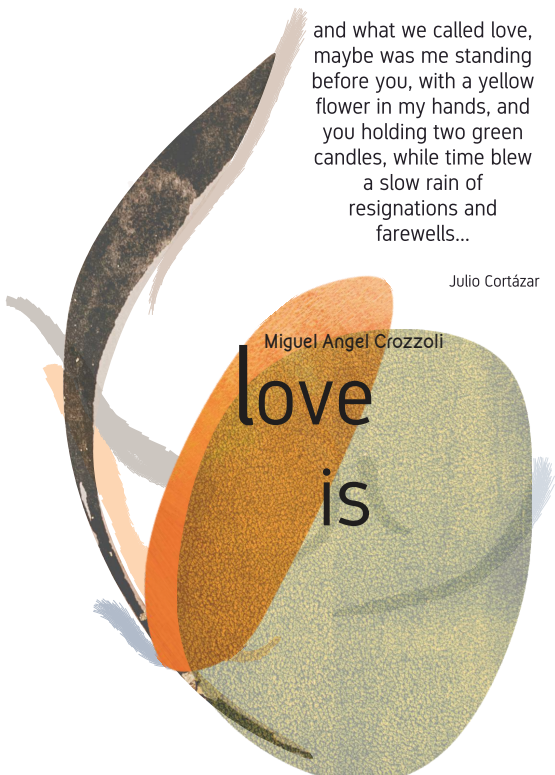

In this sound installation, you wear a heartbeat sensor that sends your heartbeats to a computer, and while exploring the space of this room, your movement activates the sounds you hear. Your heartbeats and your presence are transforming the soundscape you are immersed in.

Instructions.

Wear the heartbeat sensor.

Explore the room,
listen.

Read the text on the following page, as a reflection of what LOVE IS.

and what we called love,
maybe was me standing before you, with a yellow flower in my hands, and you holding two green
candles, while time blew a slow rain of resignations and farewells...

Julio Cortázar

love
is

Como si se pudiese elegir en el amor, como si no fuera un rayo que te parte los huesos y te deja estaqueado en la mitad del patio

What 'is love' changes, but LOVE always IS
